Information for Math and Reading SRBI Students:

From Mrs. O'Connor: Math students should spend at least 15 minutes each day on Prodigy: https://www.prodigygame.com/

Your user name and password should have been in your Friday folder. If you didn't receive that information, you can email Mrs. O'Connor for your log-in data.

From Mrs. Faulkenberry:
Your user name and password were included in your Friday folder for this site: https://www.ixl.com/ela/ . If you were absent on Friday, Mrs. Faulkenberry has posted your username and password on Classroom. When you go to ixl, you can choose a topic or you can choose the real-time diagnostic. Plan to spend at least 15 minutes on this site each day.

Reading students should check Google classroom. Your log-in information for ReadWorks is there and you can choose from a variety of article-a-day topics. Also included on classroom is log-in information for Readtheory . For Readtheory, you will be adding points to your score by reading the passages that are pre-selected. Happy reading!
